5. This Honorable Court retains jurisdiction of this case should the provisions of Paragraph One not be met.

Pleniewicz comments he doesn't think this agreement is the best agreement that could be made and the board shouldn't be afraid to tackle the case in court. Remhof states he would be more in favor of an agreement to allow the dragstrip a block of six or eight days a year to operate longer hours to attract the National Events they have talked about in the past. Remhof does not agree with the hours presented. He would be willing to go halfway and doesn't feel these hours are halfway. Colson says we are making a change for the most restricted facility in the world. Other facilities have longer hours than what we are given them now. Remhof understands where Colson is coming from, "he (Colson) is a race car guy and his paycheck comes from there and says Colson is a little too close to the issue.” Remhof thinks we can do a little better to meet the needs of the Byron community and the racers. Hoekstra says she hasn’t seen anything where the dragstrip has tried to become a good neighbor. She would be more willing to go along with it if they could be a good neighbor. A roll call vote is called:

Unfinished Business

New Business

Remhof distributes information and would like to talk about planning and also bring up an issue to the county board regarding how they handle subdivisions. The information is regarding a possible Advisory Referendum "Should the Ogle County Board reject Zoning Amendment changes for future Subdivisions if they are outside of the 1.5 mile planning area for incorporated cities or villages?" Remhof knows this is not perfect language, there are situations like Kings or Grand Detour which are not incorporated villages. Remhof would like to encourage growth closer to the municipalities and not outside of their reach, which would allow the county to grow in a more contiguous manner. Remhof states we have a lot of development coming to Ogle County since we are one of the top 10 fastest growing counties in the State of Illinois. Remhof would like to see this information referred back to the Zoning Committee and have the committee work on ideas. Colson states as a part of any referendum there needs to be a serious educational process to allow the citizens of the county to make an educated decision. Gouker says information should begin at the Committee level and then brought to the County Board. Gouker says we already have an advisory referendum called an Election, the citizens of Ogle County elect us to make these decisions on a case-by-case basis. White says unless you have been through the zoning process or attended some of the planning commission meetings or zoning hearings, there is a great need of education of the general public. Zuehl agrees with Gouker and he talks about landowners looking for higher dollars for their property. Spencer says some of the land in Ogle County is different from other counties and we have land in Ogle County that is not good for farming. It's only good for developing and doesn't think we should be telling land owners how to use their land. Bauer - the more regulations we have, the cost of the land goes up and people of Ogle County cannot afford it. Scholl agrees with Spencer there is ground not around some of the cities, and maybe when we get out of the drought this year a farmer may need to sell his ground. He doesn't feel we should tie their hands, if there is a petition filed it should go through the process and we decide on every one of them. Chairman Gocken acknowledges there are a couple of city and village officials in the crowd and will take their comments during the Public Comments portion of the meeting.

Saunders announces Focus House will be celebrating 30 years on September 11, 2005. Saunders has raffle tickets for sale and announces there will be an Open House and a pork chop dinner.

Public Comments

White announces the First Annual Town Hall Meeting for County Board District #4 will be held on August 8, 2005, at the Forreston Public Library Community Room at 7:00 p.m.. There will be a round table discussion of District #4 & County issues will be moderated by County Board Chairman Betty Gocken - this will be followed by public comment, questions & answers.

Jim Mays - President of the Village of Stillman Valley says he is disappointed by the reactions of the county board regarding the proposal of the advisory referendum. He says if you take a trip up to Boone County you will see what lack of following a comprehensive plan does to a county's infrastructure.

Chet Olson - Mayor of the City of Rochelle - sent Chairman Gocken an e-mail on July 5th, requesting a meeting. He is concerned with rural development that has been approved by the county West of Rochelle. At some point in time, the city will become contiguous with some of the subdivisions. Eventually, they will be faced with city sewer and water projects and they may or may not want to be annexed in. They are approaching some subdivisions which have quite a bit of age on them and they have septic tanks and so forth. They have had to make some decisions and they are being faced with this situation with the Askvig subdivision in Hillcrest. This also adds more infrastructure costs in the future, since the subdivisions are not required to put in curb, gutter and storm sewer and so forth at this time. If the subdivisions do not want to come into the City of Rochelle, this could have an effect on housing growth to the West and North of Rochelle. He does not know if there is a concern in other parts of the county and would like to know how other counties are handling this issue - he has heard but is not sure that DeKalb County does not allow rural subdivisions. Olson would like to see a meeting with the mayors and presidents of the various Ogle County communities and have Chairman Gocken or other members of the county board attend as well. Chairman Gocken tentatively sets up the meeting to be held on August 17th at 7:00 p.m. and Chairman Gocken will ask members of the Zoning Committee to attend this meeting.

Marla Spratt of Chana addresses the board regarding Agricultural concerns - there was a comment regarding the farmers may need to sell their land and she says they need to sell the land to another farmer. Spratt is concerned with livestock, wildlife and the water table when other subdivisions come in. She believes the subdivisions should be connected to the cities and villages in order to provide services and preserve the rural areas.

Rice says the suggestion from Remhof to look into this issue is good, but doesn't agree with adding an advisory referendum. He says we could be comparing ourselves to the State of California where they took every issue to the voter before they made a decision. He feels we have some good decision makers on the board and we could borrow from some other counties ideas they have used. Ideas which work in DeKalb or Kane counties could also work in Ogle County. If you look in the records from about 4 years ago, Mike Reibel had reported there were four wells contaminated in Ogle County by septic systems in subdivisions. If anyone thinks this will get better in the future is kidding themselves, because the more subdivisions we put in the more problems we will have. We have to address the problem by recommending or making an Ordinance to require they connect to a municipality in the future. This will save a lot of problems for the county if we do this.

Chairman Gocken refers this issue back to the Zoning Committee for further review and report back to the board.

Motion to Adjourn

At 8:25 p.m., Rice moves to adjourn the July Ogle County Board meeting until Tuesday, August 16, 2005, at 5:30 p.m., Heuer seconds and the motion carries on a voice vote.
