The legislative leaders are trying to work hard on those differences. Sen. Sieben comments it will be a rough road between now and June 30th. ### Ogle County Zoning Board of Appeals

Chairman Gocken informs the board of the recommendation of Thomas P. Kjerulff of Monroe Center, to be appointed to the Ogle County Zoning Board of Appeals for a term that expires June 30, 2009. Ron Colson moves to approve this appointment, Kim Gouker seconds. Doug Zuehl explains why he voted no for this appointment. Zuehl states since his appointment one month ago, Mr. Kjerulff had the opportunity to attend at least 3 meetings of the ZBA and one meeting for the Planning Commission. He had the opportunity to attend these meetings to see how these forums are operated. Mr. Kjerulff was not in attendance for any of these meetings. Don Conn asks Chris Remhof why he changed his vote for this appointment according to the committee meeting minutes? Chris Remhof states he has been consistent all along and says he does not feel Mr. Kjerulff is the best candidate they have had. He states Mr. Kjerulff is no John Hopkins or Paul Lower and he wishes some of them had applied for this position. He states there was an application period and he was the only candidate that applied. Remhof states there was no other criteria to be met for this appointment. He does not feel he should be denied because of what township he is from or because of some peoples opinion of what may or may not happen. Pat Saunders does not agree with Chris Remhof's statement. She asks if the board has the discretion to reject applicants? Don Conn states if someone were to apply for a job, you do not have to hire this person. Kim Gouker asks if he feels Mr. Kjerulff will do a good job? Remhof replies he feels this candidate will be adequate. Gouker also states he does not think attending meetings should be used as criteria for an appointment. Tom Scholl refers to the only criteria according to the Appointment Policy on file in the County Clerk's Office. Scholl reads the following information:

In addition to interviewing candidates, information concerning the appointment may be received from the following sources:

1. the general public; or
2. County Board members; or
3. incumbent members of the Board on which the term is expiring; or
4. officials of a political party if the appointment in question is to be made on a partisan basis.

Chairman Gocken states we (the board) do not know if this Appointment Policy was voted on or not. Scholl states he called a board member and this board member could not vote for Mr. Kjerulff because of comments that were said at the Stillman Valley Town Hall Meeting. Scholl states he has changed his vote because of this conversation. Kim Gouker comments he was at that meeting and did not see Mr. Kjerulff at the meeting. Carol Hoekstra reminds the board the State's Attorney had advised the board, if they do not appoint an applicant they need to back-up what they are saying. Hoekstra does not believe hearsay should be used and Scholl has not said what the comments were to change his vote. A roll call vote is called:

YES: Colbert, Colson, Gouker, Hoekstra, Huntley, Nye, Remhof, Stahl, Bauer, Brooks and Gocken

NO: Conn, Daws, Hopkins, Horner, Johnson, Saunders, Scholl, Swanson, Zuehl and Clayton

ABSENT: Kenney, Rice and Spencer

The motion carries on a roll call vote.(Placed on file)

Ogle County Regional Planning Commission

Marguerite Nye informs Chairman Gocken she will be abstaining from the vote on these two appointments. Nye states in the minutes of the June 9th meeting, reflects her husband's law firm was involved with some of the discussion.

Chairman Gocken informs the board of the recommendation of Marcia J. Heuer of Oregon, to be appointed to the Ogle County Regional Planning Commission for a term that expires April 30, 2007. Ron Colson moves to approve this appointment, Chris Remhof seconds. Pat Saunders explains she is opposed to Marcia Heuer being appointed since she has a good chance of becoming a County Board Member in the November Election. Saunders feels the Planning Commission is becoming full of County Board Members and this bothers her. Saunders states this is because these County Board Members will be voting on the issue twice. She thinks the policy needs to be changed or disband the Planning Commission. Jason Bauer asks Mike Reibel if the Planning Commission is needed since the Comprehensive Plan is in place. Bauer states this is another level of bureaucracy and this could be handled thru the Zoning Board of Appeals. Mike Reibel replies the Planning Commission has a separate role and function from the Zoning Board of Appeals. The Planning Commission is the keeper of the Comprehensive Plan and recommends changes and maintains the plan in a current state. The Planning Commission makes recommendations on zoning petitions based on the Comprehensive Plan. The Zoning Board of Appeals looks at issues based strictly on the standards of Ordinances. The minimum standards refer to the Planning Commission recommendations as something to be considered. Chris Remhof asks Mike Reibel if there is one week lag that would be saved if the Planning Commission were to be eliminated? Mike Reibel concurs with Chris Remhof. Tom Scholl states there are some counties that do not have Planning Commissions. A roll call vote is called:

YES: Colson, Gouker, Hoekstra, Hopkins, Remhof, Stahl, Brooks, Clayton and Gocken

NO: Conn, Daws, Horner, Huntley, Johnson, Saunders, Scholl, Swanson, Zuehl, Bauer and Colbert

ABSENT: Kenney, Rice and Spencer

The motion is defeated on a roll call vote.

Space Planner

Kim Gouker informs the board he has met with Department Heads who will move to the Judicial Center regarding layout of the offices. Gouker states during the moving of the Health Department, they have learned they need advanced planning. This move to the Judicial Center will be a move on a much larger scale. Mike Whaley from Potter-Lawson came down with some guidance on the move. The proposal is to assist the Department Heads to layout the offices in the amount not to exceed $18,000. Gouker comments the objective is not to have all new furniture in the Judicial Center. The current equipment will need to go into the new location and this will help with space efficiency in the new building. Tom Scholl asks about the placement of the electrical outlets and switches in the Judicial Center. Jason Bauer asks if the space study that was done had the placement of furniture? Don Huntley asks if the department heads can place furniture in their office without the help of an Interior Designer? Deb Ellis comments she found out what she does not know about placement of equipment at the meeting with the architects. Ellis knows she needs high density file storage capacity in the State's Attorney Office. Ellis does not know how to estimate the space in a high density file cabinet. Furthermore, she has found out the floor for the State's Attorney Office at the new Judicial Center is not reinforced to support these type of cabinets needed. Doug Zuehl says he was under the impression when looking at the previous diagrams of each office with the locations of desks, computers and equipment that the floor plans for office equipment was complete. Pat Saunders says she noticed in the budget there is $60,000 allowed for new furnishings. Saunders also says in her experience, if you call an office supply sales person they will design the office space free of charge. Deb Ellis comments on her equipment budget line item and replacing chairs or equipment. Ellis suggests to have an architect do an assessment as to how many chairs the new building will need and order them at one time for a cheaper price per unit. There was more discussion regarding the weight limit per square foot for some of the equipment needed. The floor in the Circuit Clerk's Office is reinforced to handle the high density storage units and the State's Attorney Office is not. Marty Typer states the Department Heads have the opportunity to take advantage of a new area in a new building and not blow the opportunity to utilize the new space properly. Typer says have an expert come in and review the current business practices to see if there is an opportunity before we invest money into moving items that are not the most effective. The discussion ensued with Marty Typer and the high density storage units in his office. Kim Gouker asks that this discussion be tabled and discuss this issue at a later time.

June 15, 2004

Stage II Courthouse re-model Kim Gouker states Stage II is for the Courthouse remodeling. He has notified Potter-Lawson to get together with the department heads in the courthouse to do a reassessment of the space needs to see if anything has changed.

State's Attorney Deb Ellis will be reviewing State Statutes to determine which appointments need special procedures. A draft of the Appointment Policy has been included in the packets and asks if there are any questions or ideas for the Policy. Doug Zuehl states the information is pretty vague. Doug Zuehl says he will send information to Chairman Gocken. Deb

Ellis comments her office will look into what needs to be added legally for the appointments. Pat Saunders asks about the question on the application regarding "conflicts of interest", how does the applicant know if there is a conflict or not? Ellis does not believe this should be on the application or be a question to ask during the interview. Ellis says the applicant may not know if there is a conflict of interest or not.
