Note: This map depicts the areas in which the County of Ogle envisions various types of development occurring over time. The overall land use policies set forth in this map are intended to guide future development. However, the map is subject to change as the Ogle County Comprehensive Plan is updated.

The Ogle County Comprehensive Plan sets forth the policies and guidelines that should govern development in Ogle County. The plan is intended to guide future development in a manner that is consistent with the goals and objectives of the Ogle County Planning and Zoning Commission, the appropriate city, village or township planning commission, or the appropriate regional planning body.

City, village and/or township comprehensive and land use plans may vary from this map. For land areas that are within 1.5 miles of incorporated cities and villages that have an adopted comprehensive or land use plan, or are within 1.5 miles of a township planning commission, the applicable city, village or township planning commission should be consulted.

The Ogle County Amendatory Zoning Ordinance and the Ogle County Land Subdivision Regulations are the primary land use documents that implement the Comprehensive Plan. These documents should be consulted regarding laws that affect the use and development of land.

The text of the Ogle County Amendatory Comprehensive Plan must be consulted for specific development goals, objectives and policy that affect the manner in which this map should be interpreted.
